

FAITH+SCIENCE: a dialogue

How can we reconcile the creation accounts in Genesis with the findings of modern science?

How can we engage in constructive, hospitable dialogue on these issues?

Join us as we explore these questions together.

October 2011 – February 2013

Church of the Servant CRC

3835 Burton Street SE
Grand Rapids, MI 49546
616-956-7611

www.coscrc.org/faithandscience

Funded by a grant from Scientists in Congregations, an initiative of the John Templeton Foundation.

October 2011 Events

Sunday, October 2 at 6 pm

“Reading the Scriptures as the Body of Christ”

Michael Gulker
executive director, The Colossian Forum on Faith, Science and Culture

Sunday, October 9 at 6 pm

“How Astronomy Has Changed Our Picture of Creation”

Loren Haarsma
professor of physics and astronomy, Calvin College
Alvin Plantinga
*emeritus professor of philosophy, University of Notre Dame;
professor of philosophy, Calvin College*

Sunday, October 16 at 10 am

“Securing Our Faith-and-Science Dialogue through Worship and Prayer”

Michael Gulker
executive director, The Colossian Forum on Faith, Science and Culture

Sunday, October 16 at 6 pm

“Modern Cosmology, the Multiverse, and the Creator”

Deborah Haarsma
professor of physics and astronomy, Calvin College

Sunday, October 23 at 6 pm

Skeptics Sunday

“Religion and Science: Conflict or Concord?”

Alvin Plantinga
*emeritus professor of philosophy, University of Notre Dame;
professor of philosophy, Calvin College*

Michael Gulker

Deborah Haarsma

Loren Haarsma

Alvin Plantinga

Attendees will receive a free copy of Origins: A Reformed Look at Creation, Evolution, and Intelligent Design by Deborah B. Haarsma and Loren D. Haarsma.